REHOBOTH BEACH WRITERS SERIES A SUCCESS

In celebration of National Library Week, the Wilmington University Library in conjunction with the Rehoboth Beach Public Library sponsored a Delmarva Discussions series on Finding the Writer Within: Writing Your Personal Memoir.

Sessions were held April 4th, 18th and May 2nd at the Wilmington University Rehoboth Beach site. The sessions included tips on how to use letters and journals to write a memoir, explorations of the importance of evoking place and time in a memoir writing, and writing exercises.

Each session in the series featured a different memoir. If you are interested in writing your own memoir, check out the ones covered in the writers series.

One Writer's Beginnings by Eudora Welty

This Boy's Life: A Memoir by Tobias Wolff

Sweet Summer: Growing Up With and Without My Dad

by Bebe Moore Campbell

We would like to thank the Rehoboth Beach Public Library, the Delaware Center for the Book and the Delaware Division of the Arts for their partnership in this event.

ACCESS RESEARCH DATABASES THROUGH WEBCAMPUS

Both students and faculty have access to Library databases through WebCampus, the Wilmington University portal.

LIBRARY CATALOG TRANSITION

This winter the Library will be moving our Library Catalog, previously called WebCat, to the statewide Delaware Library Catalog System.

What will this mean for library users?

- Users will see a new interface when searching for library materials
- Users will have the ability to also search within other public and academic library catalogs
- Users will be able to request and borrow materials from other Libraries

NETLIBRARY E-BOOKS

Our eBook collection is one of the Greenbank Mills in nearby Prices Corner was the setting for a summer Library staff retreat. The opportunity for staff to dialog about the Spring 2009 user survey and what the future holds for library services helped us further our theme of teamwork. A strong library staff leads to better service to the users of the Library. Useful in planning for this part of the retreat was the library book, Creating Effective Teams by Susan A. Wheelan.
